

At A Distance Together

CREATIVE TASK

For our latest task we have invited Visual Artist Paria Goodarzi, to offer us up some creative inspiration!

WHAT TO DO

I am Paria and I want to ask you for this week's task, to test the relationship between architectural form and human activities, through writing and hand drawing a mind map of the environment you are living during the pandemic.

STEP 1:

First, you need to think what shape your house is (walk around your house or look at from outside). Draw outline of your house plan from above.

STEP 2:

Think where the entrance door is (mark it with small dash) then think how many rooms you have. It could include a kitchen, bathroom... etc. Separate the rooms with the simple line.

Step 3:

Imagine you are flying over your home. What shapes are everything from above? Think about details of your home and their placement, for instance, Tables, TV, Chairs...etc. To draw them use the basic shapes you already know (square, rectangular, circle...) Your sketch can be black and white or to create the sense of your place, use any colour or paint you have available.

Step 4:

Write about your experience during pandemic in your home.

What you noticed that you never noticed before in your home?

How you interact with your space during lockdown?

Which area of your home you most used during this time?

What does home means to you now?

ABOUT THE PROJECT

With many people in our communities in isolation, A Moment's Peace Theatre wanted to offer our regular groups a chance to stay connected and continue to be supported creatively during these challenging times.

At A Distance Together will see us work with associate artists, creating & sharing fortnightly creative tasks, some respond directly to what is happening in our lives at the moment, some an exploration of imaginative spaces. They are entirely optional to undertake, and they can be shared with us or just kept as personal creative activities for the everyday.

We will also be hosting monthly live online creative workshops. offering our groups a chance to reconnect and continue to engage in live creative activities, whilst we are unable to meet in person.
